Delaware

Any person, agency, organization or entity who knows or in good faith suspects child abuse or neglect shall make a report. For purposes of this section, “person” shall include, but shall not be limited to, any physician, any other person in the healing arts including any person licensed to render services in medicine, osteopathy or dentistry, any intern, resident, nurse, school employee, social worker, psychologist, medical examiner, hospital, health care institution, the Medical Society of Delaware or law enforcement agency.

Note: The Delaware Attorney General has indicated that this provision refers to any other person with knowledge, suggesting that everyone is a potential mandated reporter. However, a Delaware state court decision suggested that only those enumerated positions above are mandatory reporters. Sedlock v. Quest Diagnostics Clinical Labs., 807 A.2d 584, 589-90 (Del. Super. 2002). Because the law is unclear on this issue, everyone should report all instances of suspected child abuse or neglect to avoid any criminal or civil liability.

No individual with knowledge of child abuse or neglect or

Maryland

- Health practitioner, police officer, educator, or human service worker, acting in a professional capacity in this State;
- Health care practitioners involved in the delivery or care of a substance-exposed newborn;
- Any person.

Persons who are not health practitioners, police officers, educators, or human service workers are not required to report suspected abuse or neglect if doing so would violate the attorney-client privilege, if the report would require disclosure of “matter communicated in confidence by a client to the client’s attorney or other information relating to the representation of the client,” or if doing so would violate any constitutional right to assistance of counsel.

The communication was made to the minister, clergyman, or priest in a professional character in the course of discipline enjoined by the church to which the minister, clergyman, or priest belongs; and the minister, clergyman, or priest is bound to maintain the confidentiality of that communication under canon law, church doctrine, or practice.

For health practitioners, police officers, educators, and human service workers acting in a professional capacity:
- The oral report must be made by telephone or direct communication as soon as possible, and
- The written report must be made not later than 48 hours after the contact, examination, attention, or treatment that caused the individual to believe that the child had been subjected to abuse or neglect.

For all other persons, there are no such requirements specified, and the report may be oral or in writing to the agencies identified above.

West Virginia

General note: West Virginia’s mandatory reporting law has different requirements depending on the type of abuse. Information is categorized on this page accordingly.

- Abuse or neglect:
  - Any medical, dental or mental health professional;
  - Christian Science practitioner or religious healer;
  - School teacher or other school personnel;
  - Social service worker;
  - Child care or foster care worker;
  - Emergency medical services personnel;
  - Peace officer or law-enforcement official or humane officer;
  - Member of the clergy;
  - Circuit court judge, family court judge, employee of the Division of Juvenile Services or magistrate;
  - Youth camp administrator or counselor;
  - Employee, coach or volunteer of an entity that provides organized children’s activities; and
  - Commercial film or photographic print processor.

- Sexual abuse/sexual assault:
  - Any person over the age of 18 who receives a disclosure from a credible witness or observes any sexual abuse or sexual assault.

Reports of child abuse or neglect must be made immediately by phone and followed up within 48 hours by a written report if requested.

Reports must be made immediately, and not more than 48 hours after receiving such a disclosure or observing the sexual abuse or sexual assault.

If the individual receiving the disclosure or observing the sexual abuse or sexual assault has a good faith belief that reporting the event to the police would expose either the reporter, the subject child, the reporter’s children or other children in the subject child’s household to an increased threat of serious bodily injury, the individual may delay making the report while he or she undertakes measures to remove themselves or the affected children from the perceived threat of additional harm and the individual makes the report as soon as practicable after the threat of harm has been reduced.

Wisconsin

- Any of the following persons who has a reasonable cause to suspect that a child seen by the person in the course of professional duties has been abused or neglected or who has reason to believe that a child seen by the person in the course of professional duties has been threatened with abuse or neglect and that abuse or neglect of the child will occur shall report (unless an exception described below applies):
  - Physician, coroner, medical examiner, nurse, dentist, chiropractor, optometrist, acupuncturist, physical therapist, physical therapist assistant, occupational therapist, dietician, speech-language pathologist, audiologist, emergency medical technician or other medical or mental health professional;
  - Social worker, marriage and family therapist, professional counselor, alcohol or other drug abuse counselor;
  - Public assistance worker, including a financial and employment planner;
  - School teacher, school administrator, school counselor, any other school employee;
  - Child-care worker in a child care center, group home, or residential care center for children and youth or child care provider;
  - Member of the treatment staff employed by or

Reports must be made immediately by telephone or in person.

working under contract with a county department or a residential treatment care center for children/youth;
• Court appointed special advocate;
• Mediator under s. 767.405; and
• First responder, police or law enforcement officer.

Members of Clergy: Absent an applicable exception (as described below), a member of the clergy shall report if the member of the clergy (i) has reasonable cause to suspect that a child seen by the member of the clergy in the course of his or her professional duties has been abused or has been threatened with abuse and abuse of the child will likely occur; or (ii) has reasonable cause, based on observations made or information that he or she receives, to suspect that a member of the clergy has abused a child or threatened a child with abuse and abuse of the child will likely occur.

Exception for Members of Clergy: A member of the clergy is not required to report child abuse information that he or she receives solely through confidential communications made to him or her privately or in a confessional setting if he or she is authorized to hear or is accustomed to hearing such communications and, under the disciplines, tenets, or traditions of his or her religion, has a duty or is expected to keep those communications secret.

Exception to reporting requirement: Health care services: The following persons are not required to report suspected or threatened abuse, sexual intercourse or sexual contact involving a child: (1) A health care provider who provides any health care service to a child, and (2) a person who obtains information about a child who is receiving or has received health care services from a health care provider, unless such person in (1) or (2) either (a) has any reasonable doubt as to the voluntariness of the child’s participation in the sexual contact or sexual intercourse, or (b) has reason to suspect:
• That the sexual intercourse or sexual contact occurred or is likely to occur with a caregiver;
• That the child suffered or suffers from a mental illness or mental deficiency that rendered or renders the child temporarily or permanently incapable of understanding or evaluating the consequences of his or her actions;
• That the child, because of his or her age or immaturity, was or is incapable of understanding the nature or consequences of sexual intercourse or sexual contact;
• That the child was unconscious at the time of the act or for any other reason was physically unable to communicate unwillingness to engage in sexual intercourse or sexual contact; or
• That another participant in the sexual contact or sexual intercourse was or is exploiting the child.

Exception to reporting requirement: person delegated parental powers. A person delegated care and custody of a child is not required to report any suspected or threatened abuse or neglect of the child. Such a person who has reason to suspect that the child has been abused or neglected or who has reason to believe that the child has been threatened with abuse or neglect and that abuse or neglect of the child will occur may report.

Wyoming

Any person.

Report must be made immediately either orally or in writing.
• If a person reporting child abuse or neglect is a member of the staff of a medical or other public or private institution, school, facility or agency, such person must notify the person in charge as soon as possible (who is thereupon responsible to make the report).• If the person responsible for the welfare of the child is a member of the armed forces, report should be made to the state judge advocate for the Wyoming military department.
