- With the purpose to arouse or gratify a sexual desire of either himself or another person, the person purposely exposes his or her sex organs to another person who is less than 15 years of age.
  - However, it is an affirmative defense if the person is within 3 years of age of the victim.
- With the purpose to arouse or gratify a sexual desire of either himself or another person, the person purposely exposes his or her sex organs to a minor, and the offender is (i) employed by any city or county jail, or any juvenile detention facility, in which the minor is in custody; (ii) a mandated reporter and is in a position of trust or authority over the minor; or (iii) the minor’s parent or guardian, an employee in the minor’s school or school district, or a temporary caretaker.

See “Rape—How is it defined” for additional discussion of affirmative defenses.

Note that the Court of Appeals of Arkansas held that the solicitation provision of the sexual indecency with a child statute (the first bullet above), as applied to prosecute defendant, was unconstitutionally overbroad in suppressing the defendant’s fundamental right to engage in protected expression because the provision also prohibits the solicitation of legal sexual acts. The provision was not narrowly tailored to achieve the state’s stated goal of protecting minors, where the prior version of the statute provided a clear example of a less restrictive alternative by which the state could achieve its goal (such prior version criminalized only solicitations of sexual conduct that would otherwise be illegal). Worsham v. Arkansas, 2019 Ark. App. 65 (Ark. 2019).

Sexual Extortion
A person commits sexual extortion if:

- With the purpose to coerce another person to engage in sexual contact or sexually explicit conduct or to produce or distribute a recording of a person in a state of nudity or engaged in sexually explicit conduct, the person communicates a threat to (i) damage the property or harm the reputation of the other person or (ii) produce or distribute a recording of the other person engaged in sexually explicit conduct or depicted in a state of nudity;
- The person knowingly causes another person to engage in sexual contact or sexually explicit conduct or to produce or distribute a recording of a person in a state of nudity or engaged in sexually explicit conduct by communicating a threat to (i) damage the property or harm the reputation of the other person or (ii) produce or distribute a recording of the other person engaged in sexually explicit conduct or depicted in a state of nudity; or

Ark. Code § 5-14-113 (sexual extortion); Ark. Code § 5-4-401 (incarceration); Ark. Code § 5-4-201 (imposition of fines); Ark. Code § 5-14-101 (definitions).
- The person knowingly demands payment of money or receipt of anything of value by communicating a threat to distribute a recording of a person engaged in sexually explicit conduct or depicted in a state of nudity.

Statutory Rape

Alabama no longer separately codifies the offense of “statutory rape.” Instead, statutory rape has been supplanted by Ala. Code § 13A-6-61(a)(3) (rape in the first degree) and Ala. Code § 13A-6-62(a)(1) (rape in the second degree).

Also, Ala. Code §§ 13A-6-63 and 13A-6-64 (sodomy in the first and second degree) and Ala. Code § 13A-6-67 (sexual abuse in the second degree) contain language covering other offenses that constitute what is otherwise commonly called “statutory rape.” Finally, Ala. Code § 13A-6-69.1 (sexual abuse of a child less than 12 years old) contains additional prohibitions. The relevant laws are as follows:

- Rape in the first degree: Sexual intercourse between an offender who is 16 years old or older and a victim who is under 12 years old.
- Rape in the second degree: Sexual intercourse between an offender who is 16 years old or older and a victim who is 12 years old or older but less than 16 years old if the offender is at least two years older than the victim.

Sexual Assault
A person commits sexual assault by intentionally or knowingly engaging in sexual intercourse or oral sexual contact with any person without consent of such person.

Sexual Abuse
A person commits sexual abuse by intentionally or knowingly engaging in sexual contact:

- With any person who is 15 or more years of age without consent of that person; or
- With any person who is under 15 years of age if the sexual contact involves only the female breast.

If the victim was 15, 16, or 17 years old and the offender was in a position of trust, consent is not a defense to prosecution.

Unlawful Sexual Conduct; Adult Probation Department Employees; Juvenile Court Employees
Unlawful sexual conduct by an adult probation department employee or juvenile court employee occurs if the employee knowingly coerces the victim to engage in sexual contact, oral sexual contact, or sexual intercourse by either:

- Threatening to negatively influence the victim’s supervision or release status; or
- Offering to positively influence the victim’s supervision or release status.

For the purposes of this law, a victim is defined as either (a) subject to conditions of release or supervision by a court or (b) a minor who was referred to the juvenile court.

Molestation of a Child
A person commits molestation of a child by intentionally or knowingly engaging in sexual contact, (except sexual contact with the female breast) with a child who is under 15 years of age.

"Statutory rape" is commonly used to refer to sexual penetration that is illegal because it involves a youth and consent is immaterial. While Arizona does not expressly penalize “statutory rape,” the offense of “sexual conduct with a minor” targets this conduct.

A person commits "sexual conduct with a minor" by intentionally or knowingly engaging in sexual intercourse or oral sexual contact with any person who is under the age of 18.

Valid defenses:

- If the victim is 15, 16 or 17 years old, an offender may defend himself or herself by showing that he or she did not know and could not reasonable have known the
Sodomy

- Arizona does not appear to criminalize sodomy.
- Any state laws that outright prohibit sodomy are unconstitutional under Lawrence v. Texas, 539 U.S. 588 (2003).

A peace officer commits unlawful sexual conduct by knowingly engaging in sexual contact, oral sexual contact or sexual intercourse with any person who is either:

- In the officer’s custody; or
- A person who the officer knows or has reason to know is the subject of an investigation.

This does apply to either: (1) direct or indirect touching or manipulating of the genitals, anus, or female breast that occurs during a lawful search; or (2) an officer who is married to or in a romantic or sexual relationship with the person at the time of the arrest or investigation. The following factors may be considered in determining whether the relationship between the victim and the defendant is currently a romantic or sexual relationship: (a) the type of relationship; (b) the length of the relationship; (c) the frequency of the interaction between the victim and the defendant; and (d) if the relationship has terminated, the length of time since the termination.

Unlawful sexual conduct; correctional facilities

A person commits unlawful sexual conduct by intentionally or knowingly engaging in any act of a sexual nature with a prisoner or offender on release status who is:

- In the custody of the state department of corrections, the department of juvenile corrections, a private prison facility, a juvenile detention facility or a city or county jail; or
- Under the supervision of either department or a city or county.

However, the sexual contact is not unlawful under this section if the person was lawfully married to the prisoner or offender on release status before the prisoner or offender was sentenced to the state department of corrections or was incarcerated in a city or county jail.

- Where the victim was unconscious of the nature of the act and this was known to the offender;
- Where the victim submits under the belief that the offender is someone known to the victim other than the offender, and this false belief was intentionally induced by the offender's artifice, pretense or concealment;
- Where the act is accomplished against the victim's will by threatening to retaliate in the future against the victim or any other person, and there is a reasonable possibility that the offender will execute the threat; or
- Where the act is accomplished against the victim's will by threatening to use the authority of a public official to incarcerate, arrest, or deport the victim or another person, and the victim has a reasonable belief that the offender is a public official.

In the context of the crime of rape, California law does not specifically define “sexual intercourse” (although the term “sexual intercourse” is defined in the specific contexts of certain other crimes). Instead, the legislature broadly construes what kinds of acts constitute rape. The statutes contain the following information:

- All forms of nonconsensual sexual assault may be considered rape.
- The essential determination of whether an offender is guilty of rape lies in the outrage to the victim's person and the feelings of the victim of the rape.
- Any sexual penetration, however slight, is sufficient to constitute rape.

The crime of sodomy is defined as sexual conduct consisting of contact between the penis of one person and the anus of another person. Any sexual penetration, however slight, is sufficient to complete the crime of sodomy.
Forcible Acts of Sexual Penetration

An offender commits the crime of forcible acts of sexual penetration by committing an act of sexual penetration under any of the following circumstances:

- Where the act is accomplished against the victim's will by means of force, violence, duress, menace, or fear of immediate and unlawful bodily injury on the victim or another person;
- Where the act is accomplished against the victim’s will by threatening to retaliate in the future against the victim or any other person, and there is a reasonable possibility that the offender will execute the threat;
- Where the victim is incapable of giving consent because of a mental disorder or developmental or physical disability, and this is known or reasonably should be known to the person committing the act;
- Where the victim is incapable of giving consent because of a mental disorder or developmental or physical disability, and both the victim and offender are confined in a state hospital for treatment of the mentally disordered;
- Where the victim was unconscious of the nature of the act and this was known to the offender;
- Where the victim is unable to resist because of any intoxicating or anesthetic substance, or any controlled substance and the offender knew or reasonably should have known of the victim’s condition;
- Where the victim submits under the belief that the offender is someone known to the victim other than the offender, and this false belief was intentionally induced by the offender’s artifice, pretense or concealment;
- Where the act is accomplished against the victim’s will by threatening to use the authority of a public official to incarcerate, arrest, or deport the victim or another person, and the victim has a reasonable belief that the offender is a public official; or
- Where the act is accomplished against a victim who is under 18 years of age.

Oral Copulation

The crime of oral copulation involves copulating the mouth of one person with the sexual organ or anus of another person.

Sexual Battery

An offender commits the crime of sexual battery in the following circumstances:

- By touching an intimate part of another person while that person is unlawfully restrained by the accused or an accomplice, the touching is against the will of the person touched, and the touching is for the purpose of sexual arousal, sexual gratification, or sexual abuse;
- By touching an intimate part of another person who is institutionalized for medical treatment and who is seriously disabled or medically incapacitated, the touching is against the will of the person touched, and the touching is for the purpose of sexual arousal, sexual gratification, or sexual abuse;
• By touching an intimate part of another person for the purpose of sexual arousal, sexual gratification, or sexual abuse, and the victim is at the time unconscious of the nature of the act because the perpetrator fraudulently represented that the touching served a professional purpose;
• By causing a victim to masturbate or touch an intimate part of the offender, the victim, or a third person for the purpose of sexual arousal, sexual gratification, or sexual abuse, where the victim is either unlawfully restrained by the offender or an accomplice or is institutionalized for medical treatment and is seriously disabled or medically incapacitated; and
• By touching an intimate part of another person where the touching is against the will of the victim and the touching is for the specific purpose of sexual arousal, sexual gratification, or sexual abuse.

Sexual battery does not include rape or forcible acts of sexual penetration; these are separate crimes.

Unlawful Sexual Acts Procured By Fraud or False Pretenses
An offender unlawfully procures consent to sexual acts by false or fraudulent representation with intent to create fear under the following circumstances:

• When the offender induces any other person to engage in sexual intercourse, sexual penetration, oral copulation, or sodomy;
• The victim’s consent is procured through false or fraudulent representation or pretense that is made with the intent to create fear and which does induce fear;
• The fear would cause a reasonable person in similar circumstances to act contrary to the person’s free will; and
• The victim does act contrary to his or her free will.

Aggravated Sexual Assault of a Child
An offender commits aggravated sexual assault of a child by committing the following crimes on a child under the age of 14 years old who is 7 or more years younger than the offender:

• Where the crime of rape, sodomy, oral copulation, or a forcible act of sexual penetration is committed, against the victim’s will, by means of force, violence, duress, menace, or fear of immediate and unlawful bodily injury on the victim or another person;
• Where the crime of rape, sodomy, oral copulation, or a forcible act of sexual penetration is committed, against the victim’s will, by threatening to retaliate in the future against the victim or any other person, and there is a reasonable possibility that the offender will execute the threat;
• Where the crime of rape, sodomy, oral copulation or sexual penetration is committed and the offender

Cal. Penal Code §§ 266c, 269, 288.7, 1170
Cal. Penal Code § 269 voluntarily acts in concert with another person and against the will of the victim by means of force or fear of immediate injury to the victim or another person.

Sexual Acts with a Child 10 Years of age or Younger

When the offender is at least 18 years old and the victim is 10 years old or younger, and the offender commits the crime of rape, sodomy, or oral copulation, the crimes are re-classified as sexual acts with a child 10 years of age or younger.

Unlawful Sexual Intercourse With a Person Under 18

The crime of “unlawful sexual intercourse with a person under 18” consists of an act of sexual intercourse with a victim who is not the spouse of the perpetrator, if the victim is a minor and the perpetrator is an “adult” person who is at least 18 years of age.

There are also additional laws in California that criminalize other sexual acts with minors, including laws surrounding sodomy, sexual penetration, and oral copulation.

Note: Consent by the victim is a defense to a prosecution, prosecuted alone or in conjunction with charges under §22-3018 or §§22-401 and 22-403. (§22-3007).

Note: No actor is immune from prosecution under any section of this subchapter because of marriage, domestic partnership, or cohabitation with the victim; provided, that marriage or the domestic partnership of the parties may be asserted as an affirmative defense in prosecution under this subchapter where it is expressly so provided. (§22-3019).

Statutory Rape

Sexual intercourse or contact that is illegal because it involves a youth and consent is immaterial. While the District of Columbia does not expressly penalize “statutory rape,” the offenses summarized below target this conduct.

• First degree child sexual abuse: engaging in a sexual act with a child under the age of 16 or causing a child under the age of 16 to engage in a sexual act when the person is at least 4 years older than the child. (§22-3008)
• Second degree child sexual abuse: engaging in sexual contact with a child (i.e. under the age of 16) or causing a child to engage in sexual contact when the

(§ 22-3009.03)

• Second degree sexual abuse of a secondary education student engaging in a sexual conduct with a student or causing a student to engage in sexual conduct when the student is under the age of 20, is enrolled in a secondary level school system, and where the person is a teacher, counselor, principal, coach, or other person of authority in that secondary school or school system. (§ 22-3009.04)

• Enticing a child: an actor who is 4 years older than a child under the age of 16 or being in a significant relationship with a minor (or 4 years older than the purported age of a person who represents himself or herself to be a child under the age of 16):

Note: In a prosecution under §§ 22-3008 (first degree child sexual abuse) to 22-3010 (enticing a child), prosecuted alone or in conjunction with charges under §22-3018 or § 22-403, the government need not prove that the defendant knew the child’s age or the age difference between himself or herself and the child.
Note: Marriage or domestic partnership between the defendant and the child or minor at the time of the offense is a defense, which the defendant must establish by a preponderance of the evidence, to a prosecution under §§ 22-3008–22-3010.01, prosecuted alone or in conjunction with charges under § 22-3018 or § 22-403, involving only the defendant and the child or minor. (§ 22-3011).

Note: No actor is immune from prosecution under any section of this subchapter because of marriage, domestic partnership, or cohabitation with the victim; provided, that marriage or the domestic partnership of the parties may be asserted as an affirmative defense in prosecution under this subchapter where it is expressly so provided. If it is determined that the offender is the father of the child, the offender must pay child support pursuant to the child support guidelines described in chapter 61.

Note: Under § 794.021, where the criminality of the conduct depends on the victim’s age, ignorance of the age is not a defense. Neither is misrepresentation of age by such person, or a bona fide belief that such person is over the specified age.

Sodomy

Fla. Stat. § 800.02 provides that “a person who commits any unnatural and lascivious act with another person commits a misdemeanor of the second degree.” While this statute does not expressly address sodomy, an unnatural and lascivious act requires an intentional act of sexual indulgence or public indecency “when such act causes offense to one or more persons viewing it or otherwise intrudes upon the rights of others.” See Conforti v. State, 800 So.2d 350, 351 (Fla. 4th DCA 2001).

Note: Any state law that outright prohibits sodomy is unconstitutional under Lawrence v. Texas, 539 U.S. 588 (2003).

No person shall engage in a sexual act with a minor if:

- The actor is at least 48 months older than the minor, and

Statutory Rape

- "Statutory rape" is commonly used to refer to sexual penetration that is illegal because it involves a youth.
- Vermont has no specific statutory rape statute, but this concept is captured by section (c) of 13 V.S.A. § 3252, "Sexual Assault", 13 V.S.A. § 3253a "Aggravated Sexual Assault of a Child" and 13 V.S.A. § 3258 "Sexual Exploitation of a Minor"

  • The act is accomplished against the will of the victim, by force, threat or intimidation of or against the victim or another person, or through the use of the victim’s mental incapacity or physical helplessness.

Statutory Rape
• “Statutory rape” is commonly used to refer to sexual penetration that is illegal because it involves a youth and consent is immaterial. While Virginia expressly penalizes carnal knowledge of a child between 13 and 15 years of age, the offenses of rape and forcible sodomy also targets “statutory rape” under certain circumstances.
• Statutory rape is rape if defendant engages in sexual intercourse with the victim, and the victim is under the age of 13 years; or causes the victim to engage in sexual intercourse with another person, and the victim is under the age of 13 years. It is immaterial whether or not the victim is defendant’s spouse.
• Statutory rape is forcible sodomy if defendant engages in cunnilingus, fellatio, anilingus, or anal intercourse with a victim, and the victim is under the age of 13 years; or causes the victim to engage in the acts in question with another person, and the victim is under the age of 13 years.
