

Parental Rights Oregon

Last Updated: April 2023

Question	Answer
Does the state allow for termination or limitation of parental rights when a child is born from rape?	Yes
Does the state require a conviction for the sexual offense to terminate or limit the rapist's parental rights?	Yes
May the state terminate or limit parental rights when there was a sexual assault that led to the birth of the child, but no conviction?	No
What parental rights can be terminated or limited?	Terminated: Custody Visitation
Are there any exceptions to the termination or limitation of a rapist's parental rights?	N/A
What other rights may be impacted by terminating a rapist's parental rights?	N/A
What is the procedure for termination or limitation of parental rights in these circumstances?	Victim must petition the court
What proof do you have to show to terminate or limit the rapist parent's parental rights?	Must show by Clear and Convincing Evidence that the rapist parent was convicted of first or second degree rape pursuant to ORS 163.365 and ORS 163.375, or of a comparable offense in a different jurisdiction.
Are there any time limits for when a petition must be filed to terminate or limit the rapist parent's rights?	N/A
Does the law apply to both adult victims and underage victims?	Yes
Does the law have any exceptions for married or co-habiting victims?	No

Can a court require the rapist parent to pay child support after parental rights have been terminated?	Yes
Statutory Citations	OR ST § 419B.510, 419B.510. Child conceived as result of act leading to conviction for rape; termination of parental rights Or. Rev. Stat. § 107.137 Factors considered in determining best interest of the child regarding custody